

ALDAR Professor in Real Estate Development, Professor in Planning, and (2)
Assistant/Associate Professor in Real Estate/Planning
Henley Business School
School of Real Estate & Planning
University of Reading
Reading, UK

ALDAR Professor in Real Estate Development

Closing Date: 1 May 2009

Full-time, tenured/permanent. Salary is negotiable

Thanks to the generous support of ALDAR Properties PJSC, we are seeking to appoint a new Professor to lead the expansion and development of our research and teaching in the field of real estate development.

You will be a committed academic with a global outlook and a real enthusiasm for real estate development education and research.

You will have:

A significant track record of applied research in any aspect of real estate development with publications in highly-rated international journals;
Experience of teaching on undergraduate and postgraduate programmes; executive teaching skills are also welcomed;
Experience of interacting and working effectively with professional and external groups; and Enthusiasm for and commitment to helping the School to become a leading centre for real estate development.

Professor in Planning

Closing Date: 1 May 2009

Full-time, tenured/permanent. Salary is negotiable

Building on the School's strong research reputation and the success of the postgraduate programmes, we are seeking a Professor who can lead the Planning group during the next phase of our development.

You will have a strong research record and an ability to communicate effectively with a wide range of audiences. You should also have the capacity to develop a strategic agenda for both research and teaching and lead a team to fulfil those objectives.

You will have:

A strong academic profile in planning research, with publications in highly rated international journals;
A track record in securing research funding and managing significant research projects;
Experience of interacting and working effectively with professional and external groups;
Enthusiasm for and commitment to extending the international reach of the planning research and teaching programmes; and

Experience in teaching on both undergraduate and postgraduate programmes; programme development expertise also welcome.

Assistant/Associate Professor in Real Estate/Planning

Closing Date: 1 May 2009

Full-time, permanent. Salary: £33,432 - £52,086 per annum

In order to support our growth and build on our research excellence, we are seeking to appoint two lecturers/senior lecturers/readers (US assistant/associate professors)

Applications are welcomed from candidates across the broad range of fields within the School including real estate appraisal, management, investment, finance, development or planning. Enthusiasm for and an ability to contribute to the School's research and teaching agenda are essential.

You will have:

A PhD or equivalent research experience in a relevant area, with evidence of the ability to publish in international academic journals;

Experience of teaching on undergraduate and postgraduate programmes;

Enthusiasm and commitment to play a full part in helping the School to secure its position as the leading centre for real estate and planning education and research; and

For more senior appointments, a strong record of programme leadership and/or of international excellence in research publications.

Contact Details:

Informal contact details

Contact role: Head of School, Real Estate & Planning

Contact name: Prof. Ginny Gibson

Contact phone: +44 (0)118 378 8174

Contact email: v.a.gibson@henley.reading.ac.uk

Alternative informal contact details

Contact role: Director of Research, School of Real Estate & Planning

Contact name: Prof. Colin Lizieri

Contact phone: +44 (0)118 378 6339

Contact email: c.m.lizieri@henley.reading.ac.uk

Formal contact details:

Further information and application forms are available at www.reading.ac.uk/Jobs or telephone +44 (0)118 378 6771 (voicemail).

Posted 4/9