

Visiting Professor in Property
School of Property, Construction and Project Management
RMIT University, Melbourne, Australia

The School of Property, Construction and Project Management invite letters of interest for the position of Visiting Professor in Property. The position is for suitably academically qualified and industry experienced individuals who will contribute to RMIT University's international property research profile. The position is for a limited term and can range for 3 months to 2 years.

Duties and Responsibilities

The Visiting Professor is to broaden the property research base at RMIT University. These responsibilities shall include but not limited to assisting in the preparation of academic research papers, grant applications, academic and industry funded research, and industry presentations.

Eligibility

Candidates are expected to be prominent leaders in their field and have an international standing. Preference will be given to candidates from one of the following fields that are in accordance with strategic priorities for research and development of the School.

- Property (real estate) and the capital market
- Valuation (appraisal) methodology and practices
- Property market analysis

About Us

The Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology is one of Australia's original and leading educational institutions, producing some of Australia's most employable graduates. As an innovative, global university of technology, with its heart in the city of Melbourne, RMIT has an international reputation for excellence in work-relevant education and high quality research, and engagement with the needs of industry and community. RMIT regularly appears in the top 200 of the THES - QS World University Rankings, and was most recently ranked as the fourth most internationalised university in the world.

RMIT's undergraduate Property and Valuation program is one of Australia's oldest and longest running with a history of over 60 years. The Property and Valuation discipline is part of the School of Property, Construction and Project Management and the School has over 900 enrolled undergraduate students and over 200 postgraduate students. The School also offers both PhD (Doctor of Philosophy) and Master degrees by research. (www.rmit.edu.au/property)

Location

This position will be at RMIT's City Campus in the heart of Melbourne's vibrant city centre. Melbourne is regularly ranked as one of the world's most livable cities and is considered the cultural arts centre of Australia. Melbourne is home the Australian Open (tennis), the Australian Grand Prix, and Melbourne Cup (international horse race). Melbourne is located on Port Phillip Bay with kilometres of beaches and is centrally located in Victoria's great outdoors (<http://www.visitvictoria.com>).

Application Procedure

RMIT University is an equal opportunity employer and candidates of all backgrounds are encouraged to apply. Letters of interest should include a current curriculum vitae with a list of recent publications and be sent to:

Dr David M. Higgins
Associate Professor, Property Investment
Discipline Head, Property & Valuations
School of Property, Construction and Project Management
RMIT University, GPO Box 2476
Melbourne, VIC 3001 Australia

Phone: +61 3 9925 2214
Email: david.higgins@rmit.edu.au